1Click Clocksync License Code & Keygen [Win/Mac] [Latest-2022]

1Click Clocksync is a Windows software tool developed to synchronize your PC clock with an online time server. Windows can already do that, so why should you use such an app? Well, mostly because 1Click Clocksync comes with many more tools, all of them packed in a rather user-friendly GUI. The main window is the one created to keep you up to date with time information, so it shows current time and date, time zone and last synchronization details. You can quickly synchronize the computer clock using the standard settings, set the date and the timezone, jump into options or launch the help manual. Synchronization usually takes just a few seconds, but this also depends on the configuration settings you make. For example, you are allowed to choose from three different servers and two protocols, UDP and TCP, with a dedicated option to define timeout. The good thing is that automatic synchronization is available too, so 1Click Clocksync can synchronize the clock at any user-defined interval. The app also places an icon in the System Tray, so a right-click should be enough to quickly synchronize the time with minimum effort. To sum up, 1Click Clocksync is a helpful product that boasts the essential features to keep your computer time synchronized with an online server. It needs just basic computer knowledge and runs smoothly on all Windows versions, without affecting system performance in any way. Pros: * Doesn't take up much memory * Simple to use * Can automatically synchronize the clock * Supported on all Windows versions * Supports all major OSes * 3+ ways of configuring time sync Cons: * No default server * Available only in English 3.01 1Click Clocksync is a Windows software tool developed to synchronize your PC clock with an online time server.
