LogoCreator is a standalone application that allows you to create logos or designs without using any other tools or apps. However, at the same time, if you are very familiar with Photoshop and other similar tools, you are definitely going to be able to apply the same kind of effects and features they have to offer. For example, you can create logos and icons using natively designed shapes, use text, apply various effects, automatically add a background, and much more. In fact, every single feature is available, including ones that are not available in such tools as Photoshop. Additionally, it features various simple menu items that allow you to copy the generated image, send it to your email, and more. It does not support fully-fledged features such as vector graphics. This means you can only create logos and icons using photographs as the source of inspiration. However, the vector processing workflow is still accessible, and it can be used for creating logo designs that are more complicated than just a series of graphics. Another aspect you should be aware of is that the app can only use the .gif and .png formats. The file formats are not fully supported yet, but that shouldn't be a problem for most people. The .jpg format is still fully supported. Overall, LogoCreator is a good alternative to other online tools. It's more user-friendly, and it can be used for creating logos of all types and sizes. This is a tool you should try out if you're in need of a logo app that is unique and easy to
