The following are the list of the main features and differences between Adobe Photoshop and Photoshop Elements. Elements is not the same as Photoshop Cloud, the cloud-based version of Photoshop that Adobe is testing. Elements, like the software it serves as a replacement for, is intended for users with just a few images or if you are looking to do some basic work for small to medium sized projects. The reason Elements is more streamlined is because it is designed for photographers, graphic designers, web designers and other individuals who are not a photographer, but who like to create their own artwork. Adobe Photoshop and Photoshop Elements are two different products. Adobe Photoshop is the most popular and powerful professional image editing software while Photoshop Elements is an entry-level product for amateur and novice photographers, graphic designers, web designers and other individuals. Adobe Photoshop Features Simple Color Management This feature enables the user to use a wide range of colors, including custom colors on any image. Adobe Photoshop allows a set of custom colors, which are just a group of colors that you can pick. You will find that Photoshop Elements gives you the chance to use custom colors that you can pick. You can even pick any color from the RGB or CMYK modes. Built-in powerful tools This feature enables the user to use some powerful tools, including the tools that can be used to edit text. Adobe Photoshop can be used to edit text, like creating new text or select the text in any photo. Adobe Photoshop does not have a similar feature. For this, Photoshop Elements comes with a few different features, such as the Character Search and the Character Replacement tools. Better Color Controls Adobe Photoshop has an awesome color control feature, which allows the user to choose any colors and edit them. The user can set the color to range from any color in the image, including custom colors. Photoshop Elements cannot be compared with Photoshop because it does not have a color control feature. For this, Elements can be used to change the color, however, it cannot be used to edit the color. Transparency This feature allows you to show details behind layers, merge layers, masking and so on. This feature allows you to use the transparency feature to perform advanced tasks. This feature allows you to merge layers and duplicate layers. Special needs immigration Do you have a special needs child? If you do, you are probably familiar with the challenges to finding a family that will be able to provide the kind of care your child needs. There are many barriers to immigration, but if your child has a medical condition or other problem that could make it difficult for him or her to adjust, you may find these challenges more difficult than usual. Fortunately, the law provides options and some of the solutions are more flexible than what is available in Canada. When your child is very young If your child is not a Canadian citizen and has been ordered removed from Canada, you need to find the proper channels for you to keep your child in your custody. Please check with the Refugee Protection Program to ensure that you are doing all that you are required to do. The following options are good choices if you need to reunite with your child before the mandatory return to your home country. Please keep in mind that some of the paths may not be open for you, depending on the specific circumstances. Canadian family reunification pathways: Your child will need to be “unable to return to his or her home country because he or she is a refugee.” Under the law, this means that you will need to be able to provide proof of: Your financial means to support the child adequately A document from the government proving that the child cannot return to the country of origin A Canadian citizen to serve as the child’s permanent caregiver Identity documents to prove that you are the legal guardian of the child, including birth certificates, passports, or other documents A Canadian citizen or permanent resident who has access to your home can confirm the residency in the country of origin for the child. This is only a temporary residence and does not give your child citizenship of that country. You will also need documentation that verifies that you have the financial means to support the child. You must try to have your child returned as soon as possible. If a child has been ordered removed, the court may give him or her more time to respond if that child has a serious medical condition. If not, the child must be returned within 30 days. Settlement in Canada: You need to petition for a child to be admitted as a refugee, instead of deporting them, so they can receive protection in Canada. If a child is admitted as a refugee, he or she becomes a Canadian citizen automatically
