Modupremover

I dont want this thing to come back as no.9 due to some reason. A: As long as all the duplicates are in the same sub-folder (same filename, same extension, in the same domain), the only way to clean them is with a batch file. A simple one, for instance, would be this @echo off findstr /r /x /m ""

```
"C:\Users\Public\Public\Documents\[file_to_search]." del

```
"C:\Users\Public\Public\Documents\[file_to_search]." Obviously, this code will work only if all the duplicates are in the same sub-folder. Now, just save this code in a.bat file and name it all-dupes.bat and then run all-dupes.bat. If you need more assistance, leave a comment.
