V1.0.1 Update Contents Additions & Adjustments New Title Screen Clarification of New Character Creation Basic Functionary Improvements Issues that have been addressed The UI in the "Multiplayer" option screen was improved. Class Skill entries were corrected. Some information about the Skill Master, which was previously only available in the Help menu, was added. A description about the matchmaking system was added. Band of Bagoons A new 20-man "Band of Bagoons" raid mode was added. In the new mode, the players use goblins as battlefield gimmicks to bring pain to monsters. In this mode, the defense and defense effects are set to be stronger than normal. As monsters are attacked, they will change attack targets randomly, and thus it will be challenging to figure out the strategy. The bosses are monsters that have strong defense and defense effects. If you are weak to enemy attack, a large number of defense effects are activated. When the defense effect maximum cap is reached, the effect will be removed and the defense will be raised as the defense effect level for the next attack is lower. The bosses' strength can be ranked, and you can gain rewards according to the rankings. The cost to enter the new raid mode is 5 Reboot Points. The leaderboard can be accessed on the main screen. You can learn more about Band of Bagoons at BOB HQ. Character Creation New characters can be created by adjusting the values in the "Character Creation" panel. Details of the Value Setting Name Name is a string displayed on the bottom of the character's portrait on the left side of the screen. The name is semi-selectable. ☐☐ We appreciate your support.If you like Tarnished, please take a moment to leave a review on Steam.Thank you!From Zynga and our friends at Betaworks. Thank you for your interest. As previously stated, the game has not been ported to Android as of this time. We are working to do this and we will update with an announcement once it is available. I think I have a solution. Instead of us porting all the existing content, why not just create a new game from scratch, but with familiar content, similar with Total War, plus maps, leaders, and even heroes from the old game. (I would also be really sad if they port Tarnished to Android. I already have a lot of money invested into this game and was ready to drop 40 bones on an iPhone app for it. It was really the only thing I looked forward to playing when I heard they were splitting into two studios.) I don't think I would play a new game just with different assets. I would like the variety of the expansion but also the immersion of familiarity in the game. A lot of people were impressed when the Tarnished upgrade was released because it was an entirely new game with the same engine and assets as the original. Maybe they're listening to us.
