Quick Hits: Pascucci, Red Wings, Fehr and Gleason • G Pascucci: The Pittsburgh Penguins goaltender on Florida's Willis McGahee during an interview with TSN after an NCAA college basketball game in the New York area. UPDATE: Pascucci said it was a joke: "I have to respond to the MTV Urge ones here. When I was young, I had a request for a Willis McGahee water bottle. I got a hold of him at the time and gave him a call. We did a little interview where he rapped with me." I just put together the best magazine-like interview in sports. My life is complete. • G Red Wings: Teemu Selanne on the state of the Wings: "I'll stay with [the Red Wings] as long as I want. I'm not a free agent. My contract [with Anaheim] is up. They want me, as long as I want to stay. I want to be an important part of the organization. But I can't feel my age right now." Selanne makes clear that he wants to stay, but the Wings want him to sign a
