I have the following router set up: from( "{{route2.file.url}}" ).routeId( "routeId1" ).bean( "foo" ).bean( "bar" ).to( "{{route1.destination.url}}" ).routeId( "routeId2" ).end(); In my foo bean I will be passing a string representing the filename. This filename is part of the routeId. What I want to do is have foo pass the filename to the bean bar. The problem is that bean( "bar" ) is instantiated before the above route is executed. That is, after the bean( "foo" ) line is executed in the route the routeId1 bean instance of bar is instantiated. Is there any way to delay the bean( "bar" ) call until the bean( "foo" ) statement is completely executed? A: You need to check only once the route is actually started. You can do it with a variable in the route that gets reset to null when the route start is set. If you have the following route: from("file://...?") .routeId("routeId1") .to("bean://foo?") .to("bean://bar?") .end() Then you can use the following bean to define the routeId1 bean: Now you only need to be sure the route starts before calling the getTitle method. If you do

July 15 2019 0. What does it mean, from the perspective of Jewish law, when you get very sick, and the doctors cannot do anything about it? Does it matter that you are Jewish, or that you have a Christian doctor? is the important question. This morning I had a dream that the police came into my home searching for my wife. I told them that she was not there, and that she did not live in this house. They then checked into the neighbor's house, where she was. During this time, I saw the death of Jesus coming on the horizon. The Old Testament Scriptures clearly state: "Behold, I will shew wonders in the heavens, and in the earth, blood, and fire, and pillars of smoke. " (Isaiah 66:1). While looking at this scripture, I saw the pale child above the 4:45 pm ET. Although he was directly above me, I saw him clearly. In his hand he held a scroll, which he opened. There was a visible blood red line on the scroll. He pointed the line towards our old apartment building. I then realized that this line was meant for the death of my wife. The line was indeed red. The rest of the dream is not relevant. I would like to believe that this dream is God speaking to me. e79caf774b
