News that BC Hydro will be seeking a two-year rate hike of its own, coupled with looming electricity shortages, will come as a political bombshell to the Green Party. We will be announcing a full media campaign, beginning today, to call attention to this unprecedented move to claw back money from ratepayers for corporate profit, as a whole other bucket of water is turned off. Winnipeg hydro rates are rising from $325/megawatt hour to $400/megawatt hour. A BC Hydro rate hike would be even more breathtaking – from the lowest level in the country to the highest. We encourage all local businesses and organizations to join the Coalition Against Unreasonable Hydro, and to consider this gentle yet very public and effective "Rate the Hike" campaign. A sample email to use to encourage your friends to join as well can be seen here. We need as many voices as possible to make a difference. Emotion among Israeli adults: an investigation of its psychological and sociocultural antecedents. This article documents one of the first to explore the relationships between emotion, personality and sociocultural experiences in Israel. Using data collected in 1979-1980 from 1776 Israeli adults, this article reports a structural equation modeling analysis that aimed to empirically address the following research questions: (a) Which psychological and sociocultural constructs affect emotional self-descriptions of Israelis and (b) is the relationship between self-images and actual emotions accounted for by differences in personality and gender? As expected, the findings from the multiple indicator analyses show that in general, the interrelations between psychological and sociocultural constructs, personality and gender are related to a person's emotional self-image. The degree to which a person's self-image reflects actual emotion, however, was most strongly related to personality. These findings suggest that Israelis may have a tendency to overestimate themselves in terms of emotions, an effect that varied according to several personality variables.
