mentor's life, his compatriot, the wry and whimsical Kicking Bird, proposes he steal the box of stars and run, escape to his home land of Luti, for it holds great power. Lakota recruits Katla, a young orphan and his teammates Ta and San, to help him in his escape. During that event, Travis becomes a visitor to the island of dreams. In this strange and magical island, he meets the ingenious Aisha, a girl who looks like a fairy. Aisha wants to help Travis to be reborn and go back to his normal life, in a body and personality of his choice. In order to do that, she needs to transport him to the island of dreams. This has never been done before, and the consequences are far from good. If he does not find a way back to his reality, Travis will lose a part of himself forever. This game won't have a set storyline. Instead, the player will experience the island of dreams through Travis' point of view. The experience of playing the game will be different depending on which way the player decides to go.
