In the code behind there is a function to count the number of audio files on the page. Is there a way to call the function from Javascript on a button click and get a count of all the audio files? A: You can use a very simple function `audioFilesCount() { return document.getElementById('audioList').childElementCount; }` where 'audioList' is a suitable ID of your 'audio' element. Q: SoundTouch issue: How can I record any device's sound? I used SoundTouch from the Java developer's website to record audio samples in a WAV format, and when I played the samples using another WAVPlayer (using Java Sound API), I could hear
