Field of the Invention The present invention relates to a curable composition for a polypropylene resin, a heat-durable and heat-shrinkable film and a laminate, and a molded article prepared by using the polypropylene resin. More specifically, the present invention relates to a curable composition for a polypropylene resin which is excellent in high-temperature heat-shrinkability and heat-durability, a heat-durable and heat-shrinkable film and a laminate, and a molded article which is excellent in low-temperature heat-shrinkability and heat-durability. 2. Description of the Related Art

Nowadays, in the application fields of automobiles, electrical appliances, instruments and the like, resin films such as films of polyvinyl chloride, polystyrene, polyester and polypropylene are used. In order to decrease the burden of environmental pollution, resin films used in those fields are required to have high recyclability and low-temperature heat-shrinkability. For example, in polyvinyl chloride, there are problems about heat deformation upon heating due to the low-temperature heat-shrinkability, the migration of a plasticizer at the time of heating and cooling, a possibility of generation of chlorine-containing compounds upon incineration, and the like. Further, polystyrene is excellent in heat-shrinkability, but has drawbacks such as low-temperature heat-shrinkability, which results in the generation of cracks upon heating and/or the low-temperature heat-durability, which
